COAL FOR
TRANSPORTSSherman Brings Some Here From Japan.

The United States Army transport Sherman, Captain Bruguerre in command, arrived yesterday morning from Manila via Nagasaki, and will proceed to San Francisco this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The vessel is moored at Naval Dock No. 1. The trip of the transport from Japan to Honolulu was a continuous ducking through head winds and heavy seas. It was bad weather all the way across.

One sad incident marked the voyage. This was the mysterious disappearance of a soldier named James M. Ward, of Company B, Seventh Infantry, who was a patient in the hospital. Some time during the afternoon of April 3 the man left the hospital quarters in the after part of the ship and was never seen afterward. Whether he jumped overboard or fell overboard no one knows. He dropped out of sight completely. The man was believed to be delirious.

The vessel carries a large cabin list and 541 troops, or a total of 645 persons. Among the troops are 204 enlisted casuals, 49 men of Company H, Signal Corps; 20 of the Hospital Corps; 13 enlisted men, U. S. N.; 34 sick soldiers and civilians; 14 general prisoners; 17 civilians and ex-civilian employees of the quartermaster's department; 10 deported men; 177 discharged soldiers; 3 discharged seamen, U. S. N. There are 71 first cabin and 33 second cabin passengers.

Prominent among the cabin passengers are Col. John Chamberlain, Inspector General, who joined the vessel at Nagasaki. He is accompanied by Mrs. Chamberlain and son.

Mrs. Egbert, widow of General Egbert, who was killed in action in the Philippines, is en route to the States. There are officers, too, who have done much service in hospitals in the Philippines. Major John Bannister, for over two years in command of the first reserve hospital in Manila, and Major Bradley, attending surgeon, have been relieved of tropical duty in exchange for mainland duty. Both are considered fine surgeons, Major Bannister having an enviable reputation as an oculist. He is of the first corps to return to the United States in accordance with the three-year provision. Major Bannister was formerly chief surgeon of the first brigade, under General Sumner, with headquarters at Dagupan. Then he was placed in command of old Hospital No. 3, now the Luneta police station, being made chief surgeon of the department of South Philippines, under General Wade, shortly after. Then, after the breaking up of that department into two, he became chief surgeon of the department of the Visayas, headquarters at Iloilo. Later he was ordered to the First Reserve as operating surgeon, then was stationed at Malate barracks and was surgeon of the post of Manila, and a little less than two years ago was placed in command of the First Reserve.

Miss Sterling, daughter of Admiral Sterling, is also a through passenger. P. S. Bruguerre, of the chief quartermaster's office at Manila, is taking a three months' vacation.

While the Sherman was at Manila the Hill line steamship Minnesota came into the bay. The arrival of the biggest passenger and freight vessel on the Pacific was the motif for several gala occasions and a ball was given aboard for Manila society. The big vessel had taken in 15,000 tons of hemp for cargo when the Sherman left. The transport Sheridan arrived at Nagasaki the day the Sherman sailed for Honolulu, and she expected to sail two days later for this port. She may arrive here tomorrow, en route to the coast. The Sheridan has the Fourteenth Infantry aboard, which will be taken direct to Portland. The Fourteenth exchanges posts with the Nineteenth Infantry, which is due here today on the transport Buford, en route to Manila. The Sherman will land 1000 tons of coal here for the transport service.

The following passengers are aboard the Sherman:

Major John M. Banister, Surgeon, U. S. A.; Mrs. J. M. Banister, Miss Banister, Monroe Banister, Edwin Banister, Percival Banister, Major Henry L. Raymond, Surgeon, U. S. A.; Major D. T. Kelleher, Clerk, Paymaster's Dept.; Chaplain J. A. Potter, 7th Infantry; Mrs. J. A. Potter, Captain Thomas W. Darrab, Comm'y, U. S. A.; Captain Chas. B. Hepburn, Signal Corps, U. S. A.; Edith Hepburn, William Hepburn, Matthew Hepburn, Captain W. L. Clarke, Signal Corps, U. S. A.; Mrs. W. L. Clarke, Lieut. F. A. Pope, Engineer Corps, U. S. A.; Lieut. L. L. Delrich, 12th Cavalry; Lieut. Floyd Frisbie, Phil. Scouts; Lieut. George H. Scott, Medical Dept.; Lieut. Douglas H. Jacobs, 12th Cavalry; Lieut. T. M. Roagan, 12th Cavalry; Lieut. R. W. Ashbrook, 15th Inf.; Lieut. H. S. Berry, 13th Cav.; Lieut. J. A. McAllister, Con. D. S., U. S. A.; Mrs. J. A. McAllister, Lieut. J. M. Van Hook, Phil. Constab.; Miss Bell Clements, Fam. Capt., 14th Cavalry; Master C. Adams, Fam. Capt., 14th Cavalry; Mrs. G. H. Davis, wife Capt., 12th Inf.; Mrs. Egbert, Fam. deceased Gen., U. S. A.; Mrs. Sterling, Fam. deceased Gen., U. S. DR.
DEIMEL
UNDERWEAR

Underwear is often called "body linens." Linen absorbs, towels are made of it—it dries rapidly—is known for its cleanliness, but ordinarily it is cold and clammy.

In the Dr. Deimel Underwear the coldness has been taken out of linen. By a special process of manufacture a soft, warm and porous fabric has been evolved, called Linen-Mesh (a word registered by Dr. Deimel in 1894, but now used by others indiscriminately). Since its introduction ten years ago, the Dr. Deimel Linen-Mesh Underwear has received the most friendly and grateful appreciation throughout the world.

The Dr. Deimel Underwear is made in such a wide variety of sizes that we can fit everybody.

(Seal) W. L. HOWARD, Registrar.

On the way he was one of a party of Honolulu people which visited the Democratic-Republican nominating convention in Omaha and heard William Jennings Bryan give one of his rattling speeches for bimetalism and against territorial expansion. Perhaps it was the voice of the silver-tongued Nebraskan which put the bee of leadership of men into the Hawaiian country parson's bonnet.

Rev. J. M. Ezera, pastor of the Congregational church at Ewa, is under investigation of the police at Wailuku, Maui, respecting his sanity. At the same time the Oahu Evangelical Association is investigating Mr. Ezera's conduct in religious matters to decide whether or not he is guilty of irregularities. The cause in both cases is the propagation by Mr. Ezera of the tenets of a new sect called the Saint Paulists. It has an oathbound creed of separation from other sects and from the children and works of the devil. There is a strong feature in the cult, too, of divining things by dreams, visions and revelations much after the manner of certain types of oldtime kahunas.

It is charged to Mr. Ezera's account that he has caused dissension in the Ewa flock and division in families on Maui. He is accompanied on his Maui mission by a relative, Mrs. J. K. Kamanoulu, who like himself seems gifted with hypnotic power over the simple-minded.

Mr. Ezera is a native of imposing presence. Two years ago he was chaplain of the Senate. In 1899 he accompanied the late Henry Waterhouse as a fellow-delegate to the convention of the American Board of Missions in Bos-
